

TL;DR: New music: "Clap Your Hands (DJ Loc Dog Jr Remix)". Video here.
Stream audio here. Contest with prizes at bottom.

BROCKWAY BIGGS

Clap Your Hands DJ Loc Dog Jr Remix

Hey ${FNAME}[super dudes|everyone]$,

I hope you've been well. Just writing to let you know that I've released a new song as Brockway Biggs. Drop me a line about anything and I'll enter you in the contest below. I always enjoy hearing from you.

My good friend DJ Loc Dog Jr freshened up my "Clap Your Hands" track with a remix. Filled with punch lines and braggadocio, the video includes sounds from the original and remix.

Check the music video or stream the audio at all your favourite places.

Details about the video back story and the beatmakers are below. And if you haven't heard, I've been releasing some fun family-oriented music as Mr Super Dude.

While I always appreciate your support, if you would rather not receive these updates, reply & let me know. I'll definitely understand.

'Clap Your Hands (Remix)' Video

https://youtu.be/rM_4KW9e5dE

Video Backstory

For nearly 20 years I had a dedicated music "office" in my home. The walls were adorned with fan art, photos and even autographed thank yous from Skratch Bastid, Eternia, Wordburglar & more.

But in 2011, I had a bad concussion and had to give up a lot of things I enjoyed, including music. When things didn't improve after a few years, I packed up my music "office". But first, I recorded some video footage. And now, many years later, it's here for you to enjoy.

The visuals were inspired by a music video created by Conor Barry for a Mr. Williams' grade 9 school bonus project back in 1994. They did a version of U2's "Numb." I had never seen a music video before. I was amazed and it was forever ingrained in my head.

Side note: Despite listening to a lot of music, it was 1996 when I finally saw my first real music video - at Greg Cameron's house on MuchMusic. I was mesmerized. I left so inspired, that I still remember the album I was listening to on the drive home: The Show Soundtrack.

The beatmakers

DJ Loc Dog Jr is a long time friend and the mastermind behind the remix beat.

Hailing from Quispamsis, NB, he was a key figure in the Fredericton hip-hop scene back in the 2000s. He released two classic 40's & 9's compilations providing exposure for some amazing talent.

As a bona fide super dude, he regularly DJ'd my gigs. He was at the 2005 ECMAs helping us rock out when I won my ECMA award. He was throwing those thumbs up on Global TV when I performed "Super Dude Jorun Remix". He was at the national DMCs with me in 2006 when Wundrkut (RIP) took home the gold. He also rode shotgun in the U-Haul when I moved to Ontario.

2006 CMW

DJ Loc Dog Jr

2005 ECMA

The original beat for "Clap Your Hands" came from the hands of Rob Banks. Back in 2001, I connected with a record label out of PEI called Criminal Records, headed by Ill Factor (aka Rob Banks) and Tech Thai. This led to collaborations on my first two albums. These days Rob Banks keeps busy with Day 1 Media.

Contest, Contest, Contest

My old newsletters had some great contests. So I'm back with some prizes for my loyal subscribers.

You can get up to 2 entries by doing the following:

- 1. Reply: Simply reply to this email and tell me what claps in the music video. (1 entry)
- 2. YouTube: Be a subscriber and leave a comment on the "Clap Your Hands" music video. (1 entry).

Prizes:

- Super Dude T-shirt + stickers. Black. Pick your size. (Canada / US only)
- CD: An Urban Remedy (2004).
- CD: 2011 Brockway Ent "Canadian Rap Future Superstars" compilation.
- Mr Super Dude sticker & magnet pack (my family friendly alter ego)

Winners will be determined by 31 Jan 2025. Each winner can choose from the remaining prizes.

Congrats to the last contest winners: Ceeb Dread (Fredericton NB), Terry H (Lake Cowichan BC), Freyja Z (Victoria BC), Lou R (Ottawa ON), Josh S (Scotch Lake NB), Daddy J (Hamilton ON)

Thank you for your support!

Brockway Biggs

www.linktr.ee/brockwaybiggs

Spotify

Facebook

Instagram

Twitter

Youtube

Bandcamp

Website